CITY MATTERS.

A. D. Hosterman and wife started for Sioux City, Ia., this morning.

James F. Trotter was arrested last night for using obscene and profane language.

An excursion party from Columbus, bound for the Soldiers' Home, at Dayton, passed through here this morning.

Why Not Have a Park?
Several years ago I was struck with the idea that the beautiful and romantic Frankenstein property, bounded by Clinton, Spring and Pleasant streets, would make a charming little park, and, if I remember rightly, called the matter to the attention of the editor of this paper at the time. It was then doubted whether it could be secured and especially at a reasonable figure. From an advertisement in another column it will be observed the property is now in the market, but whether at a rock-bottom, hard-time price I know not. We certainly ought to be able to show at least one little green patch as a park, to the thousands of visitors our conventions, conferences, meetings, etc., will attract here. No better location could be found this side of Yellow Springs or Xenia than the one alluded to above. It is as wild and uncultivated as it brought bodily from some rural retreat, and would require but little expense after the first cost to put in proper shape for park purposes. Here is a chance for a few philanthropists, or a popular subscription or a light municipal tax (if lawful). Let Editor Nichols proceed to appoint a committee to take the matter in charge.

Striking Unanimity Among Strikers.

The diversity of views among striking employees all harmonize into one unanimous approval when DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY is the topic. Myra's opinion upon this theme comes from the front. A child saved from diphtheria here. A father cured from pneumonia there. A mother cured of malaria, and endless praise on every hand. Efficiency in family use. Sold by reliable druggists and grocers at one dollar per bottle.

HOWARD'S BOYS BROTHER.

The Springfield Win Another Victory in the State Ball Series—A Fine Exhibition to a Small Crowd.

When County Howard's Lexington, Ky., team, of the Inter-State League, arrived here at two o'clock yesterday afternoon they were met by the announcement, on the part of Generalissimo O'Connell, presiding general at the base ball grounds, that the grounds were in too bad condition for a game that day, intimating that three small boys and a male team had disappeared in the mud in the left field. Manager Howard, all the same, made up a team, returning in hot haste at 3 o'clock with the information that he never saw grounds in better condition, and that Cav. was a conspicuous prevaricator. Both teams accordingly hustled into their business suits and hid themselves to West Columbia street. As the word had gone out that there would be no game, the crowd was necessarily small, and lots of base ball devotees missed one of the very prettiest games of the season. The Lexington are rated one of the strong teams in the league, and justly so, as they play a good game. They were easily done up, however, by the Springfield lads, and Captain Bowers regretted that he had been so fierce for gore, as the sequel will show. Lexington went to the bat and scored a run on error. Bowers went in to pitch and was knocked out of the box in the first inning. Reeling taking his place for the balance of the game. He was hit freely but in no case more than a single, the home team getting a total of fourteen hits and bases, three of which were off Bowers. For Lexington noticeable plays were fly catches in right and left fields, which deserved the applause they drew, and Myers' play at second, he having two puts, three assists and no errors. Although credited with nine base hits off Arundel, they were, except in the fourth inning, relating hit to infield and ball bound d. high into the air. By the time it came down and had been felled he had reached first; and as there had been no error it counted as a base hit. Springfield was in good trim for business, batting and fielding safely. It did not brilliantly. It was Hoyer's day. He batted where there was nobody, and when it counted, and captured an almost impossible fly in right. Arndel also showed up in the good old style on the hit, and was a fortress at second, although he did fumble one awful hot ball. Peckinpaugh and Faatz were not behind, either. But the great feature was the work of the battery. Arundel was on his muscle, and his pitching was a caution. In reality he struck out twelve men, although three of them were put out at first, running on the third strike not held by Carroll. Considering the short time the latter has been catching Arundel, and the sort of catching it is, he played magnificently and received applause for the fouls he held. Shoupe and Faatz accomplished a neat double play. Wilcox's umpiring was not entirely satisfactory, but on the whole, about average. It was at least impartial.

COLLINS.

Wittenberg Theological Seminary—Exercises at the Church—Senior Subjects.

A large audience of ladies and gentlemen, friends of Wittenberg, assembled at the First Lutheran church last evening, attending the commencement exercises of the Theological Seminary. The three graduates, S. S. Adams, of Berrien Springs, Mich.; E. S. Hoffman, of Mt. Morris, Ill.; and A. Schaefer, West Liberty, were escorted to positions on the platform by President Ott and Rev. J. F. Shaffer. They are young men of good promise and ability, and will enter upon the work of the Christian ministry at once. They acquitted themselves well last evening. Nelson's orchestra occupied the choir gallery, and was accompanied on the pipe organ by Miss Mary Nelson. After an opening prayer by Rev. Mr. Shaffer, Mr. Adams spoke on the subject: "Present tendency of religion; whether?" He argued the tendency of religion in this day is toward Christ. While old doctrines are being called in question to some extent, there is nothing in the existing state of things to cause alarm. Yet there is danger from the materialism of the age, rationalism and socialism. The present tendency toward infidelity is not what it was a few years ago, and the conquests of science, upon which it relied, tend to confirm the tenets of the religion of Christ. Men shrink with horror from the abyss into which materialism would plunge them. It is unable to supply a want of which every soul is conscious. Let the voice of the multitude be: "Back to the religion of the humble Nazarene."

Mr. Hoffman's subject was: "The religion of the cross irrepressible." He passed over the acknowledged historical facts of Christ's birth, his persecution and crucifixion at hands of the Jews, in the vain endeavor to suppress his teachings and leadership. In later years the blood persecutions of heathen rulers to the same ill purpose, without success, the light of the cross shining more brightly through all. Voltaire prophesied Christianity would have an existence of not to exceed 250 years. We are today within a decade of the limit of time fixed, and there are twice as many Christian people in the world as there were in 1800.

Mr. Schaefer's subject was: "The Spirit of the Gospel, Missionary," and he logically and in due course proved, from the gospel itself, the power and design of Christianity in regenerating the people of all nations.

At the close Rev. Dr. S. A. Ott, President of Wittenberg College, presented the diplomas with brief appropriate remarks and pronounced the benediction.

During the evening the following musical programme was rendered:

1. Transient.

2. Gavotte—"Forget Me Not."

3. Selections from Martinis.

4. Selections—"Home Memories."

Some very beautiful floral tributes were presented the graduates.

The entertainment given by the ladies of Snow Hill U. S. S. last evening, was very much enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Carr, furnished excellent music. Mr. Wm. D. A. Orr recited three selections to perfection, and all who failed to hear him missed a rare treat. The ice cream, cake, &c., satisfied the taste of the most critical. Flowers suitable for decoration are on sale in abundance. This evening Mr. O'Brien will again be with us: the same delicacies will again be served. Come out friends, and have a "royal" time. Admission ten cents.

Caroline Herman was taken, on a warrant, for disorderly behavior.

"No member allowed to remove his boots or shoes during a session on account of chilblains."

"Any member removing a book from the library without giving his name will be fined no less than $3.00, nor more than $7.00, according to the value of the work."

"Members will not be permitted to discuss politics or religion in the hall, but may freely talk horse and lay the foundation for dog-fights."

"The presiding officer is to be addressed as 'Mister President,' and not as 'Speaker' or 'Chairman,' his rank being the name as the President of the State Senate."

"While members are not prohibited from eating onions for supper on the night of the club, their attention is called to the fact that Limburger cheese is a good thing to break in on a morning."

"A fraternal feeling is expected to prevail between members, but any member lending another money must take his chances on repayment. In case of a horse trade they are to forget for the time being that they ever saw each other before or will ever meet again."

"In case the roof of Paradise Hall falls in each member will have license to get out as speedily as possible, but in case of a fire, no toweling, the officers will take precedence in getting down stairs."

"All razors left in the hall after a meeting will be carefully laid away by the janitor, and once in three months there shall be a
